

Important Information About Class Schedules

Students can now check their academic daytime and evening class schedules in Sonis or through the course scheduler to see which sessions will be held via "Zoom" and which will be in-person with assigned classrooms. We will let you know shortly when ATI class designations are available.

For daytime classes, with section numbers under 10, students will see "Zoom" as a classroom if a particular session is online, synchronous (same time). For some sections you will see a classroom one day per week (e.g., "H121") and "Zoom" as room the other day of the week. That class would meet weekly once in person, on campus, and once via Zoom. For other classes, such as FYI/FYE courses, you will see "Zoom" as the classroom for both meetings. That class would meet entirely online, synchronously via Zoom.

Section 30, remains traditional online, mostly or fully asynchronous.

For evening classes, there is a different coding, as these classes usually meet once per week. Evening sections labeled 11 will meet on odd weeks in person (e.g., the first day of class, the third week of class) and even weeks on Zoom. Evening sections labeled 10 will meet on even weeks in person (e.g., the second week of class, the fourth week of class) and odd weeks on Zoom (e.g., the first day of class).

Friday and Saturday classes remain mostly unchanged, unless "Zoom" is indicated as a classroom. The volume of classes on these days has historically been low.

Instructors will accommodate students who want to participate in face-to-face sessions via Zoom by having Zoom sessions open during live classes. All office hours are conducted via Zoom.

The delivery method is subject to change as some courses may need to be moved from partially on Zoom to fully on Zoom. Vaughn also will monitor the change in situation and follow the guidance of the New York State Governor on allowing in person classes.
